BLENDED INTENSIVE PROGRAMME

Digital Transformation in Higher Education

JUNE 16 - 20, 2025

CAMPUS SAINT JEAN D'ANGÉLY
5 RUE DU 22ÈME BCA
06300 NICE, FRANCE

ABOUT THIS EVENT

As part of International Digital Week 2025, Université Côte d'Azur is hosting a Blended Intensive Program (BIP) focused on Digital Transformation in Higher Education. Tailored for academic and administrative staff, this program offers a unique platform to engage with peers from across the globe in addressing the evolving digital landscape of higher education.

This BIP aims to support institutional staff in navigating and shaping digital innovation within their universities. Through a mix of theoretical insights, peer exchange, and hands-on collaboration, participants will understand major trends and technologies impacting higher education institutions today.

Additionally, this will allow an opportunity to share strategies and best practices for implementing digital change in teaching, administration, and governance - building institutional readiness for a digitally enhanced, inclusive, and sustainable future.

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Time | 10:15 - 12:05

A view on advancing International Higher Education through digital transformation
Speaker| Ida Velthoven. Policy and Research Officer at the European University Foundation (EUF)

In her presentation, "A View on Advancing International Higher Education through Digital Transformation," Ms. Velthoven will provide an evidence-based perspective from the European University Foundation on how digital transformation is reconfiguring the structures, practices, and ambitions of international higher education.

Cultivating collaboration for strategic change using Jisc's framework and maturity model for digital transformation
Speakers | Sarah Knight, Director of digital transformation, JISC
          Simon Birkett, Senior Consultant Digital Transformation (HE), JISC

Through the lens of Jisc's framework and maturity model, Sarah and Simon will explore how institutions can foster a culture of collaboration across leadership, academic, and professional services teams to drive purposeful and sustainable change. Their talk will offer practical insights and tools that enable institutions to assess their current digital capabilities, identify areas for development, and implement change in alignment with institutional goals.

Building Digital Bridges: From Possibility to Partnership
Speaker | Julie Lindsay, Senior Education Technology Advisor in the Learning and Teaching Futures Portfolio, University of Southern Queensland

Join global educator Julie Lindsay as she opens the Digital Bridges workshop with a powerful call to action. In a world shaped by AI and global change, she urges us to build real connections across cultures and classrooms. Discover how digital bridges can foster inclusive teaching, connected communities, and future-ready learning—moving from ideas to action, together.

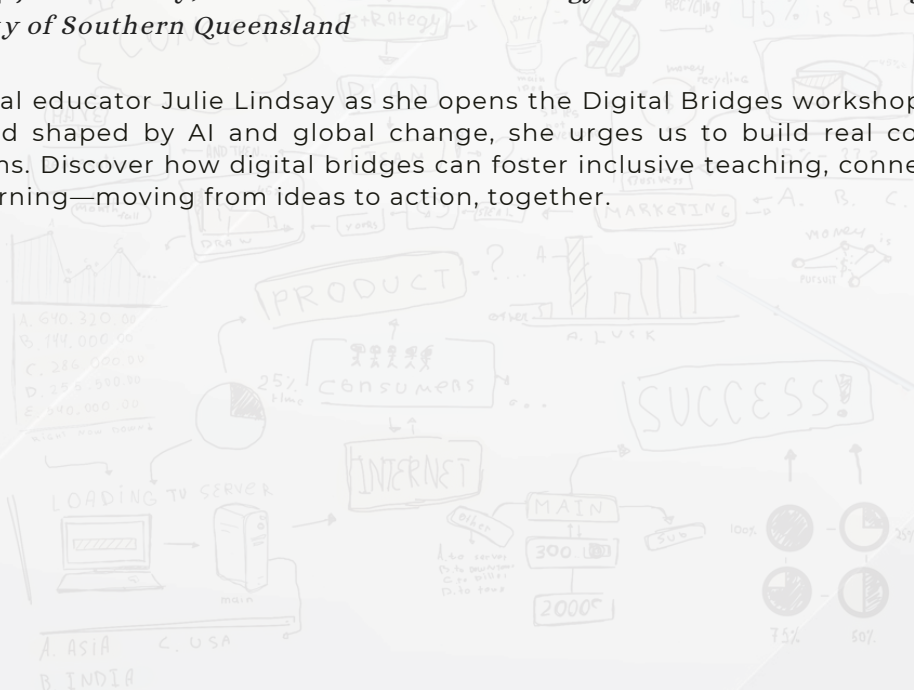

JUNE 16 - MONDAY

SIMULTANEOUS WORKSHOPS

14:00 - 15:00

HOW TO APPROACH DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION IN HIGHER EDUCATION

Facilitators | Sarah Knight & Simon Birkett. JISC
Location | Room 1B04

This workshop presents Jisc's framework and maturity model for digital transformation, based on collaboration with 25 universities. Participants will learn how to assess their institution's digital maturity, identify development priorities, and create actionable plans. Resources and tools will be shared to support strategic, organization-wide digital change.

CONTINUOUS ASSESSMENT IN THE AGE OF GENERATIVE AI : RETHINKING EVALUATION STRATEGIES

Facilitator | Simon Carolan. Learnalign
Location | Room 1B08

This workshop addresses how generative AI challenges traditional assessment and explores new strategies to promote critical thinking and originality. Participants will experiment with AI-assisted tools like feedback loops and peer review while designing assessments that engage students meaningfully. The session aims to ensure AI supports learning without compromising academic integrity.

SHAPING TOMORROW: CURRENT AND FUTURE TRENDS IN DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION FOR HIGHER EDUCATION IN HEALTHCARE

Facilitator | Stéphanie Lopez. Université Côte d'Azur
Location | Room 1B16

This workshop explores the integration of AI in healthcare education, highlighting both its potential to expand access and its disruptive effects, such as ethical dilemmas and trust issues. It addresses challenges like the doctor shortage, data privacy, and assessing students in the age of AI tools. Emphasis is placed on ethical frameworks and AI's role in supporting—without replacing—human expertise.

JUNE 16 - MONDAY

SIMULTANEOUS WORKSHOPS

15:00 - 16:00

THE POWER OF SOCIAL MEDIA IN HIGHER EDUCATION MARKETING

Facilitator| Hanna Huuskonen. Haaga-Helia University of Applied Sciences
Location |Room 1B04

Discover how to harness the power of social media for higher education marketing – even with limited resources. This interactive session will explore strategies for reaching and engaging prospective students through real-life examples like Haaga-Helia's award-winning TikTok campaign. Learn how student-generated content builds trust, and how data-driven insights boost campaign effectiveness. The workshop includes a hands-on group exercise where participants will design a no-budget social media campaign for a new international degree program, leaving you inspired and equipped with practical ideas.

DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION IN TEACHERS' WORK: EVOLVING FROM 'EGOSYSTEMS' TO LEARNING ECOSYSTEMS

Facilitator| Irma Kunnari. Haaga-Helia University of Applied Sciences
Location |Room 1B08

As AI transforms higher education, educators are shifting from knowledge providers to designers of dynamic learning experiences. This workshop explores that transition, inviting participants to rethink their roles within collaborative, adaptive learning ecosystems. Using a visual "ego-to-eco" framework and the theory of Job Crafting, participants will reflect on how to reshape their tasks, relationships, and mindset to align with this new reality. Through engaging group work, the session aims to inspire a renewed sense of purpose and confidence in navigating the evolving educational landscape.

COIL AND THE AI REVOLUTION: REIMAGINING VIRTUAL EXCHANGE FOR PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Facilitator| Osvaldo Succi Jr. Paula Souza Center
Location |Room 1B16

This workshop explores how Collaborative Online International Learning (COIL) can be reimagined in the era of artificial intelligence. Participants will discuss the evolving role of AI in virtual exchange and its potential to enhance cross-cultural, interdisciplinary, and professional development experiences. Through interactive discussions and case studies, the session will highlight innovative practices in a rapidly changing digital world.

JUNE 17 - TUESDAY

PLENARY TALKS

COMPLEMENTARITY BETWEEN NEW ORGANIZATIONAL INNOVATION AND DIGITAL TECHNOLOGIES IN HIGHER EDUCATION: LESSONS FROM THREE DECADES OF PRACTICES

Speaker| Adel Ben Youssef. Université Côte d'Azur
Time | 10:00 - 11:00

THE NEXT SCENARIO FOR HIGHER EDUCATION WITH BLOCKCHAIN AND WEB3 WHAT IF DECENTRALIZATION BECAME A KEY TREND IN HIGHER EDUCATION

Speaker| Samira Karrach. Université Côte d'Azur
Time | 11:00 - 12:00

WHY ISN'T AI GIVING THIS TALK YET? A BALANCED VIEW AT HOW AI IMPACTS KNOWLEDGE WORK

Speaker | Simone Vannuccini. Université Côte d'Azur
Time | 12:00 - 13:00

JUNE 17 - TUESDAY

SIMULTANEOUS WORKSHOPS

NEW ORGANIZATIONAL PRACTICES INDUCED BY DIGITAL TECHNOLOGIES IN HIGHER EDUCATION (PART 1)

Facilitator| Adel Ben Youssef. Université Côte d'Azur
Location | Room 1B04

This two-part workshop explores the organizational side of digital transformation in higher education, addressing why technology alone often fails to deliver performance gains. Participants will examine how structural, managerial, and cultural changes must complement digital tools to drive real impact. Drawing on global examples, the session highlights successful models of integrated transformation. An interactive segment using mini-games will help participants test strategies for building inclusive, future-ready institutions.

DIGITAL CREDENTIALS: EMPOWERING LIFELONG LEARNING IN HIGHER EDUCATION INSTITUTIONS

Facilitator| Lyubov Stafyeyeva. Management Center Innsbruck (MCI)
Location | Room 1B08

This workshop introduces educators to the potential of digital credentials in higher education. Participants will explore micro-credentials and digital badges as tools for recognizing skills gained inside and outside the classroom. Through real-life examples and a practical design sprint, they will begin creating meaningful, verifiable credentials. The session offers both newcomers and experienced practitioners tools and insights for building more flexible, lifelong learning pathways.

BUILDING COLLABORATIONS WITH UNIVERSITE CÔTE D'AZUR

Facilitator|Université Côte d'Azur (DDIE Team)
Location | Room 1B16

In this interactive workshop, participants will engage with the DDIE team of Université Côte d'Azur to explore effective strategies for initiating and sustaining international collaborations with the University. Through real-life examples and open discussion, the session will offer insights into how mobility programs and joint projects can serve as powerful tools for deepening partnerships across institutions. Participants will gain practical knowledge on identifying mutual interests, navigating administrative processes, and leveraging funding opportunities to co-create impactful international initiatives.

JUNE 17 - TUESDAY

SIMULTANEOUS WORKSHOPS

15:00 - 16:00

NEW ORGANIZATIONAL PRACTICES INDUCED BY DIGITAL TECHNOLOGIES IN HIGHER EDUCATION (PART 2)

Facilitator| Adel Ben Youssef. Université Côte d'Azur
Place |Room 1B04

This two-part workshop explores the organizational side of digital transformation in higher education, addressing why technology alone often fails to deliver performance gains. Participants will examine how structural, managerial, and cultural changes must complement digital tools to drive real impact. Drawing on global examples, the session highlights successful models of integrated transformation. An interactive segment using mini-games will help participants test strategies for building inclusive, future-ready institutions.

POWERING DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION THROUGH CO-CREATION: PRACTICAL TOOLS FOR HIGHER EDUCATION INSTITUTIONS

Facilitator| Julia Reinhard. Haaga-Helia University of Applied Sciences
Place |Room 1B08

This workshop introduces co-creation as a key strategy for advancing digital transformation in higher education. Participants will engage in a simulated co-creation session to collaboratively address a real institutional challenge. Through this hands-on experience, they will learn how to facilitate inclusive, solution-focused workshops. A complete guide and toolkit will be provided to support replication within their own institutions.

ENHANCING AI LITERACY

Facilitator| Jochen Dickel. Fachhochschule des Mittelstands (FHM)
Place |Room 1B16

This workshop showcases two EU-funded projects focused on building AI literacy for diverse audiences. AM I Fit targets non-technical workers, offering practical training, adaptive e-learning, and team-based activities to develop AI skills. AI-ERIT focuses on ethically grounded AI competencies in academic research, teaching, and administration. Together, the session provides actionable insights and tools for inclusive and responsible AI capacity-building.

JUNE 18 - WEDNESDAY

PLENARY TALKS
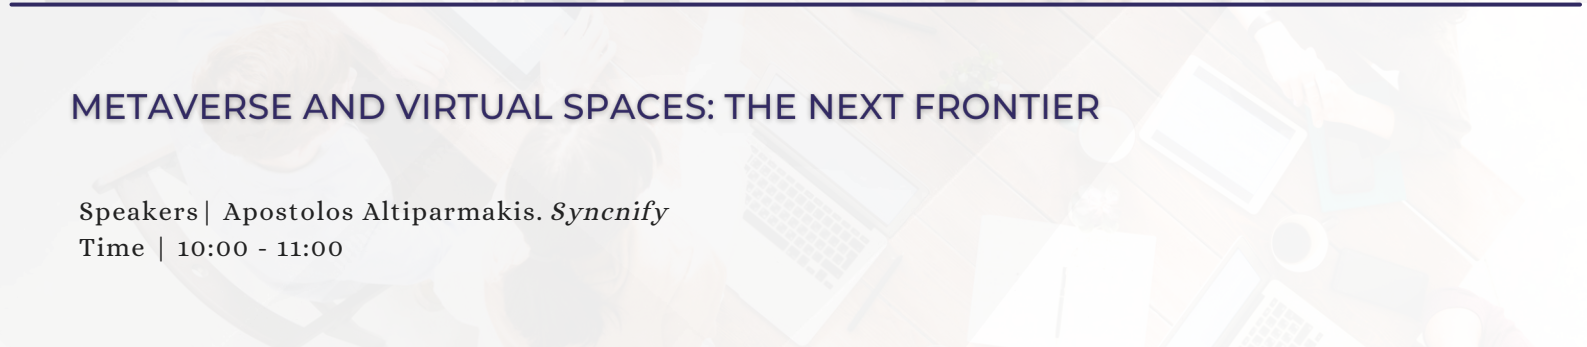

METAVERSE AND VIRTUAL SPACES: THE NEXT FRONTIER

Speakers| Apostolos Altiparmakis. Syncnify
Time | 10:00 - 11:00

THE CHALLENGES OF INTERNATIONALISATION AT HOME: INTERNAL PERSPECTIVES ON TWO EUROPEAN PROJECTS

Speakers| Christine Evain. Rennes 2 University
Time | 11:00 - 12:00

TRANSFORMATIVE INTERNATIONALISATION IN HIGHER EDUCATION: CHALLENGES AND PERSPECTIVES

Speakers | Luciane Stalliveri. Federal University of Santa Catarina
Time | 12:00 - 13:00

JUNE 18 - WEDNESDAY

SIMULTANEOUS WORKSHOPS

14:00 - 15:00

AI IN EDUCATION: NAVIGATING CHALLENGES, GAPS, AND BIASES (PART 1)

Facilitator | Laura Franco-Ramirez. Université Côte d'Azur
Location | Room 1B04

This two-part workshop explores the hidden challenges of AI in education, including algorithmic bias, inequality, and its impact on learning and creativity. Participants will critically examine generative AI's influence on teaching and cognition. The session offers strategies for addressing AI use responsibly to ensure equitable and inclusive learning environments.

DIGITAL ENVIRONMENTS FOR STUDENT LIFE

Facilitator | Apostolos Altiparmakis. Syncnify
Location | Room 1B08

Explore how innovative digital environments are transforming student life, learning, and engagement across Europe. This workshop showcases real-world platforms co-developed and tested internationally, including a metaverse for critical media literacy, an AI-enhanced learning tool for digital entrepreneurship, a course on metaskills and intercultural competence, and a media literacy platform for lifelong learning. Participants will discover how these solutions foster essential skills, support diverse learners, and extend the reach of higher education in the digital age.

AI-POWERED COURSE DESIGN: LEVERAGING GENERATIVE AI AT EVERY STAGE OF LEARNING DESIGN

Facilitator | Simon Carolan. Learnalign
Location | Room 1B16

This workshop explores how generative AI can support every stage of course design—from defining objectives to creating content and assessments. Participants will engage in hands-on activities using AI tools to streamline workflows and enhance learning experiences. The session also covers best practices and ethics to ensure responsible and effective AI integration.

JUNE 18 - WEDNESDAY

SIMULTANEOUS WORKSHOPS

15:00 - 16:00

AI IN EDUCATION: NAVIGATING CHALLENGES, GAPS, AND BIASES (PART 2)

Facilitator | Laura Franco-Ramirez. Université Côte d'Azur
Location | Room 1B04

This two-part workshop explores the hidden challenges of AI in education, including algorithmic bias, inequality, and its impact on learning and creativity. Participants will critically examine generative AI's influence on teaching and cognition. The session offers strategies for addressing AI use responsibly to ensure equitable and inclusive learning environments.

CONNECTING RESEARCHERS: BREAKING SILOS WITH DIGITAL TOOLS

Facilitator | John Rowell. Université Côte d'Azur
Location | Room 1B08

In a world of increasingly complex challenges, collaborative research across disciplines is not a luxury—it's a necessity. Yet, institutional and disciplinary silos often hinder the flow of ideas and data. This workshop explores how digital tools can break down these barriers, foster meaningful connections, and accelerate knowledge creation.

THE AI REVOLUTION IN HIGHER EDUCATION: RETHINKING CLASSROOM AND DIGITAL CULTURE

Facilitator | Robin Couture-Matte. TÉLUQ University
Location | Room 1B16

This workshop examines how AI is reshaping classroom and institutional culture, challenging educators to redefine their roles and uphold academic integrity. Participants will explore strategies to foster transparency, responsible AI use, and inclusive teaching practices. The session offers practical tools to build a culture of integrity and adaptability in AI-integrated learning environments.

DIGITAL BRIDGES: CO-CREATING THE FUTURE OF GLOBAL EDUCATION
A GLOBAL INNOVATION WORKSHOP

Facilitator | Julie Lindsay, Senior Education Technology Advisor in the Learning and Teaching Futures Portfolio, University of Southern Queensland
Time | 10:30 - 17:00
Location | 1B04, 1B08, 1B35, 1B39 et 2B48. St Jean d'Angely.

This intensive one-day workshop brings together educators, administrators, and digital innovators from around the world to explore and co-create solutions for the future of global education. Through hands-on activities, expert-led sessions, and collaborative design thinking exercises, participants will work together to bridge digital divides, enhance teaching capabilities, and strengthen international academic partnerships.

Being a part of this workshop offers a unique opportunity for you to:
- Connect with fellow innovators from diverse cultural and academic backgrounds
- Develop practical strategies for implementing digital tools in your teaching
- Contribute to building sustainable international educational partnerships
- Learn from real-world success stories and lessons learned

After a brief workshop thematic overview and purpose, participants will be grouped in a way that each group of six people includes one representative from each of the BIPs, ensuring balanced input across the key focus areas: Digital Transformation, Teaching Skills for Educators in a Digitalized Environment, and Enhancing Internationalization through Digitalization.

A GLOBAL INNOVATION WORKSHOP

WORKSHOP STAGES

Digital Bridges

1. What? - Ideate and Explore, Draft 'Moonshot' Pitch: 11:30 - 12:30

- Small group brainstorming
- Challenge statement development
- Ideation for possible solutions
- Prepare pitch using template provided

2. So What? - Create and Share "Moonshot Pitch": 12:30 - 13:00

- Activity: Group 'moonshot pitch' (rotation)
- Rework ideas based on feedback to pitch
- Identification of potential collaboration opportunities (cross-institution, cross-country)

Free time 13:00 - 14:00

3. Afternoon Session: Refine, Promote and Commit Project development: 14:00 - 15:30
[Afternoon tea - when you are ready to grab a coffee as needed]

- Update 'moonshot' ideas based on pitch feedback
- Gather resources / create artefacts
- Further refine the 'So What' - why is this collaboration important?
- Determine tangible and expected outcomes

4. Final group pitch to whole room using story arc template as a guide: 15:30 - 16:15

- Voting determines the best group project to share at the plenary

5. Closing Plenary: 16:30 - 17:00

- Showcase top ideas from each room (x3 presentations)
- Further discussion, Q&A
- Reflection on workshop process and outcomes
- Commitment setting from group members
- Closing and next steps

JUNE 20 - FRIDAY

MULTIPLIER EVENTS

Time | 10:00 - 11:30

These multiplier events are designed to amplify the impact of projects by engaging a wider audience. The goal is to "multiply" the reach and influence of the project's outcomes, to make sure its benefits are shared with more people and organizations.

DIGITAL WEEK CLOSURE

Time | 11:30 - 13:00 CET time
Place | Amphitheatre 4
Host | Université Côte d'Azur

We invite you to join us for the closure of the event dedicated to reflection and to share your thoughts, insights, and feedback on the sessions, activities, and overall experience of the BIPs. Your input will be invaluable in helping us shape future initiatives and to ensure they meet your needs and expectations.
